AWARD WINNERS

Award-winning forestry was also celebrated:

Legislators of the Year:

Senator Jennifer Bradley

Senator Jennifer Bradley has been a friend to Florida's wood and wood products industry since her election in 2020. During her first term in the Senate, Senator Bradley served as vice-chair of the Senate

Agriculture Committee and on the Appropriations Committee for Agriculture, Environment and Natural Resources. She worked alongside then President Wilton Simpson to update Florida's Right to Farm Laws and she also was a vocal supporter to increase funding for the Rural and Family Lands Program.

More recently, Senator Bradley was a key supporter on the historic agriculture and timber relief legislation which was passed during the Special Session following Hurricane Idalia.

Senator Bradley, whose Senate district comprises a significant part of Florida's "wood belt", continues to be a champion of a broad range of issues for Florida's forestry industry, a vocal proponent for the Florida Forest Service and a common-sense voice for pro-business and agricultural-friendly policy.

The Florida Forestry Association sincerely appreciates the strong relationship we have developed with Senator Bradley. We are pleased to recognize her for the hard work, dedication and services on behalf of the men and women of Florida's wood and wood products industry.

Representative Stan McClain

Finishing his term in the Florida House of Representatives, Representative Stan McClain has been a friend and champion throughout his tenure in the Florida House. He has served on the Ways and Means Committee for most of his time in the Legislature, including the previous two years as the Chair. In addition, he spent a term on the prominent State Affairs Committee.

Time and again, Representative McClain has demonstrated his support for the wood and wood products industry through his support of legislation strengthening property rights, making needed updates to the Right to Farm Act, and working on sales tax and other fiscal policy issues which have benefited industry businesses, specifically those impacted by Hurricane Idalia.

It is for these and many more reasons that the Florida Forestry Association recognized Representative McClean's hard work and tireless efforts on behalf of the men and women of Florida forestry.

Above & Beyond: Jared Beauchamp and Zach Butler of the Florida Forest Service

Jared Beauchamp has worked for the Florida Forest Service since 2005. He graduated from the University of Florida School of Forest Resources in 2012 and took on the duties of County Forester. He currently serves Lafayette, Dixie, and Taylor Counties in the Perry District, and has since discovered a special passion for assisting landowners and mentoring students in the FFA forestry discipline. When not wearing his Florida Forest Service uniform, Jared spends his time leatherworking and tending to the family farm.

Zach Butler has worked for the Florida Forest Service since 2018. He serves as the County Forester of Madison County in the Perry District. Zach graduated from the University of Florida School of Forest, Fisheries and Geomatics Sciences in 2018. Zach too has a special passion for mentoring students in FFA in both the land judging and forestry disciplines.

During the Hurricane Idalia Silviculture Recovery Program application period, these two gentlemen helped 216 landowners submit applications requesting a total of more than $20 million to reforest almost 18,000 acres in the impacted area. Thanks to them, forestland that was devastated by Idalia can be replanted. They offered hope and help at a very difficult time.

Distinguished Service Award: Dan Roach

Dan began his career with Rayonier in 1979 as a technical forester. He steadily moved up the ranks, ultimately retiring as the manager of forest environmental systems, based right down the road in the company's office in Fernandina Beach.

He was responsible for all forest environmental related activities throughout the eastern US. He managed forest sustainability implementation and worked with the Sustainable Forestry Initiative (SFI). And he assisted in policy related to environmental and regulatory issues at the federal, state and local levels.

For the Association, he has always willingly served as a walking encyclopedia on all things forestry. His knowledge of forestry runs both wide and deep, and he is always there to help. His expertise has been invaluable when dealing with BMPs (Best Management Practices), the ESA (endangered species act), TMDLs (Total Maximum Daily Loads) ... and the rest of the regulatory alphabet.

No matter the issue, Dan has always been willing and able to dive in on the Association's behalf. He is a respected voice for the industry, and he is known for his reasoned approach. He is a trusted and valued resource. In his quiet and steady way, he has been both a guardian and a warrior, protecting and advancing Florida forestry throughout his career.

Jon Gould Outstanding Tree Farmer of the Year Award: Floyd Vanzant

Floyd Vanzant's property has been in the family since the early 1800's and has historically been used for timber and livestock production. Currently, the property is owned by Mr. Vanzant and his wife Mary and is estimated to contain about 400 acres.

Floyd has increasingly become more involved in the timber aspect of the management of his property.

Over the past several years he has become interested in silvopasture. His property has been used recently for a silvopasture workshop conducted by the Florida Forest Service and sponsored by the Florida Tree Farm Association.

Over the years, Floyd has contributed to his community and forestry as he has served as a county commissioner, Hilliard Town Council member, Mayor of Hilliard, and as a county Farm Bureau board member since 1997. He is now serving as the Vice President. In the past, he has also served on the Forestry Committee with the Farm Bureau.

He participates in and is certified in the Florida Forest Service's Forest Stewardship program. His property is also certified as a Tree Farm.

Active management of his property has led Floyd to take advantage of various cost share programs to assist him in reforesting harvested areas or afforesting additional acres on his property. He is also mindful of water quality, best management practices, and wildlife on his property.

Floyd takes his role as a good steward of his property very seriously and believes that multiple use land management enhances sustainability of timber, livestock, water quality, wildlife, and recreation.

Florida's Outstanding Tree Farmer of the Year Award honors the memory and legacy of Mr. Jon Gould, a respected member of Florida's Tree Farm Program State Committee and a proud Tree Farmer and advocate for forestry for more than 30 years throughout the Southeast.

We hope you will plan to join us for the 2025 Annual Meeting at the Sandestin Golf & Beach Resort, August 26-28, 2025!

FLORIDA FOREST LAND VIDEO SERIES FOR LANDOWNERS

The Florida Forest Service, Florida Forestry Association, the University of Florida (UF), and filmmakers from Untamed Science collaborated to create a new "My Florida Forest Land" video series.

The goal of this series is to help Florida landowners learn about management tools and practices that improve their forest lands.

You can watch the videos at MyFLForest.land. New videos will continue to be released.

HURRICANES HELENE AND MILTON

The Florida Forest Service has released its preliminary timber damage assessment from Hurricane Helene. The storm is estimated to have damaged almost 8.9 million tons of timber at a value of more than $114 million.

Read the full report at bit.ly/FFSHelenedamage.

"Hurricane Helene demonstrated how forestland that members have invested money, time, and work into for decades can be damaged in a matter of moments," said Association Executive Vice President Alan Shelby. "Immediately after the storm, Association leadership and staff began engaging with policy- and decision-makers on every level to help initiate the recovery process."

"We continue to work closely with the Florida Forest Service, the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Affairs, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the Farm Service Agency, the Natural Resources Conservation Service, and state and national legislators to secure funding and policy solutions for forest recovery efforts," he said. "We are giving 100% to make sure that impacted producers have access to critical recovery resources."

We have compiled a list of current resources to help with relief and recovery efforts. The list will be updated as more resources for Hurricanes Helene and Milton become available. Find it at bit.ly/FFAhurricaneresources.
